In the lawsuit known as Pfeiffer v. Spellings, et al., the plaintiff is seeking to represent a class consisting of:

All individuals who have been obligated to repay money to the United States Department of Education at any time since March 19, 2001 pursuant to a Federal Direct Consolidation Loan Promissory Note.

If you fall with the class definition, your legal rights may be affected by the lawsuit and we would like to hear from you. If you do not fall within the class definition (e.g., your loan is not a federal direct consolidation loan and/or your lender is not the Department of Education) but have experienced interest capitalization or other problems with respect to repayment of your student loans, we would still like to hear from you.
